

Butternut

2017 Butternut Pinot Noir

What is Butternut Pinot Noir?

What does it taste like?

Aromas of vanilla, cassis and menthol lift from the glass. On the palate, an array of red and dark berries are met with a medium-bodied, silky finish.

Why Butternut?

Because it's like your Mother's Pinot Noir, only better.

What happened in 2017?

The year started off with record rainfall leading to early, robust growth on the vines. Then summer started off average but quickly changed to one of the hottest summers on record! The vines and grapes were tested, but with modern farming techniques, the vines were aided and protected. In the end, due to ample water and sunlight, 2017 will produce another excellent vintage.
